Professional Summary

Highly skilled and versatile IT professional with expertise in website development, graphic design, and IT infrastructure management. With experience as a Web Developer and Frontend Developer, I have developed and optimized user-friendly websites, integrated APIs, and enhanced UI/UX. Currently serving as the Head of IT Department at FMS IT Services, I single-handedly manage all technical operations, including web development, graphic design, system security, and automation. I also have hands-on experience in the trucking dispatch industry, having worked in sales and dispatch roles — handling lead generation, load booking, and coordination with drivers and brokers. Adept at problem-solving and implementing efficient digital and operational solutions, I bring a results-driven approach to technology and logistics management, ensuring seamless business operations and innovation.
